Property Description

In a rural environment, this chalet, signed by the architect Mazza, offers beautiful volumes and the charm of a log construction. The chalet is located at the end of a dead end street, facing a field and a clear view on the mountains. It is located between Les Houches and Chamonix center.

The chalet of about 200 sq.m of useful surface built on a plot of 1220 sq.m is distributed on three levels.

On the main floor, there is a kitchen with bar, a large living room with chimney overlooking the south and west facing terraces, and a bedroom.

On the ground floor, two double bedrooms open on the natural ground, a shower room and many storages.

On the first floor, a mezzanine open on the living room, a double bedroom and a bathroom as well as a dormitory TV room.

The land offers a nice potential for further development.

South exposure with view on the Mont-Blanc massif without opposite.

Buying French Property Just Got Easier...

The purchase process typically starts once you've visited a property with one of our agents and you made an offer on a property. Once your offer has been accepted, the property will come off the market and our local bilingual expert will liaise with you and the notaire. The compulsory searches are at the charge of the owner / vendor and are carried out at this stage.

You would have already been informed about the property taxes and legal fees (that incl. the stamp duty). The agency fees are already included in the listed price on this document, there's no premium for the superior service we offer. You don't have to pay the deposit until the 'pre-contract' has been signed, and the 10 days calling off period has expired. It takes an average of three months to buy a property in France.

Testimonials

my-french-house was by far the best online guide I found – and I trawled them all – to buying a house in France. It answers all your first questions practically before you've thought to ask.

C. BAUER – Sunday Times

Our French property purchase and move to France were made so easy with the help and assistance of my-french-house.com. They are a committed and professional business – we highly recommend them.
