Property Description

On the heights of the charming village of Saint-Nicolas-de-Véroce, in the heart of a green setting, renovated country farmhouse nestling opposite the Mont-Blanc range. A charming 17th century property, built over two levels to provide a total surface area of approx. 340 sq-m and surrounded by more than 10,000 sq-m of land and woodland. The renovation has respected the tradition of period buildings, while optimizing the space and bringing in a modern touch. The farmhouse comprises: a very attractive, light-filled living room, with the former smoking room as a double lounge, a separate fitted kitchen with its scullery, an en-suite bedroom on the ground floor, a main entrance hall with storage space and a cloakroom. This floor provides access to the unoverlooked garden-terrace offering breathtaking views. Upstairs, 4 bedrooms, a mezzanine area with sleeping area and study, a fitness room and a full bathroom, all under a beautiful exposed roof frame.

Buying French Property Just Got Easier...

The purchase process typically starts once you've visited a property with one of our agents and you made an offer on a property. Once your offer has been accepted, the property will come off the market and our local bilingual expert will liaise with you and the notaire. The compulsory searches are at the charge of the owner / vendor and are carried out at this stage.

You would have already been informed about the property taxes and legal fees (that incl. the stamp duty). The agency fees are already included in the listed price on this document, there's no premium for the superior service we offer. You don't have to pay the deposit until the 'pre-contract' has been signed, and the 10 days calling off period has expired. It takes an average of three months to buy a property in France.

Testimonials

my-french-house was by far the best online guide I found – and I trawled them all – to buying a house in France. It answers all your first questions practically before you've thought to ask.

C. BAUER – Sunday Times

Our French property purchase and move to France were made so easy with the help and assistance of my-french-house.com. They are a committed and professional business – we highly recommend them.
