Property Description

It is in the heart of a very quiet dead end, in the Bourg de Tassin, a stone's throw from the schools and the line leading to Gorge de Loup or Saint Paul, that stands this 1930 house of 200m² on three levels. Thanks to its contemporary extension designed in wood, the main floor benefits from a surface area of more than 90m². It consists of a warm living room with its wood stove and a dining room with terrazzo tiles extending the kitchen. A master suite and an office space are also on this level. To enjoy the green setting, two terraces connected by a balcony overlook the garden. The multiple openings bring in beautiful light and a fluid circulation between the interior and the exterior. The upper floor can be dedicated to the children, with its three bedrooms and its bathroom distributed around a hall. The ground floor is composed of a workshop, a studio, a cellar and a laundry room. In the heart of its large garden designed for convivial moments, the house benefits from a pétanque court, a wooden swimming pool and multiple terraces around each space, in a green setting. The location of the house in the heart of the village of Tassin and its environment provides an ideal setting for families. Buying French Property Just Got Easier...

The purchase process typically starts once you've visited a property with one of our agents and you made an offer on a property. Once your offer has been accepted, the property will come off the market and our local bilingual expert will liaise with you and the notaire. The compulsory searches are at the charge of the owner / vendor and are carried out at this stage.

You would have already been informed about the property taxes and legal fees (that incl. the stamp duty). The agency fees are already included in the listed price on this document, there's no premium for the superior service we offer. You don't have to pay the deposit until the 'pre-contract' has been signed, and the 10 days calling off period has expired. It takes an average of three months to buy a property in France.
