Property Description

Come and discover this spacious chalet, ideally located in the sought-after Eucherts area, within the La Rosière resort. On the edge of the forest, you can easily access skiing activities while enjoying the tranquility of a small co-ownership. The chalet features an independent entrance and offers a large, bright living area with a fully equipped kitchen and a terrace. The living room opens onto a large balcony with breathtaking views of the surrounding mountains.

The chalet consists of six en-suite bedrooms, each offering its own comfort. With a capacity to accommodate 12 people, it is perfect for families or groups of friends wishing to enjoy a stay in an exceptional setting. This rare property, in full ownership (no mountain convention or commercial lease), perfectly combines space, comfort, and proximity to the slopes.

Two indoor parking spaces and a ski locker complete this property.

Buying French Property Just Got Easier...

The purchase process typically starts once you've visited a property with one of our agents and you made an offer on a property. Once your offer has been accepted, the property will come off the market and our local bilingual expert will liaise with you and the notaire. The compulsory searches are at the charge of the owner / vendor and are carried out at this stage.

You would have already been informed about the property taxes and legal fees (that incl. the stamp duty). The agency fees are already included in the listed price on this document, there's no premium for the superior service we offer. You don't have to pay the deposit until the 'pre-contract' has been signed, and the 10 days calling off period has expired. It takes an average of three months to buy a property in France.

Testimonials

my-french-house was by far the best online guide I found – and I trawled them all – to buying a house in France. It answers all your first questions practically before you've thought to ask.

C. BAUER – Sunday Times

Our French property purchase and move to France were made so easy with the help and assistance of my-french-house.com. They are a committed and professional business – we highly recommend them.
