As soon as you enter, the light that reigns in the large 56 sqm living room sets the tone. The large bay windows let in abundant natural light. The carefully fitted kitchen is perfectly equipped with all the necessary elements. The cellar, practical and functional, offers additional storage space. On the ground floor, a spacious bedroom with dressing room and adjoining bathroom, settles like a real cocoon of tranquility and comfort. The first floor serves a landing converted into an office, as well as three other bedrooms, one of which has an adjoining shower room, each offering comfort and absolute privacy.

The vast parental suite is the centerpiece of this house, with its dressing room, its bathroom and its private WC. Outside, a magnificent garden with terrace and subtly landscaped swimming pool. A large garage completes the set.

Buying French Property Just Got Easier...

The purchase process typically starts once you've visited a property with one of our agents and you made an offer on a property. Once your offer has been accepted, the property will come off the market and our local bilingual expert will liaise with you and the notaire. The compulsory searches are at the charge of the owner / vendor and are carried out at this stage.

You would have already been informed about the property taxes and legal fees (that incl. the stamp duty). The agency fees are already included in the listed price on this document, there's no premium for the superior service we offer. You don't have to pay the deposit until the 'pre-contract' has been signed, and the 10 days calling off period has expired. It takes an average of three months to buy a property in France.
