Property Description

With a clear view of the Quercy hillsides, this charming village house immerses us in a cozy and flirtatious atmosphere.

Its surface area of approximately 162m² is perfectly balanced with its volumes.

Rather cozy in winter near its Scandinavian wood stove, or rather airy in summer with its shaded terrace and swimming pool, this house goes through the seasons with pleasure.

On the ground floor, an entrance hall provides access to the 50 m² garage and a staircase to access the living room.

The latter, bright and through, offers beautiful spaces with its living room, dining room and office.

In a row, the fully equipped kitchen with high-end furniture opens onto a terrace of more than 250 m² with its swimming pool.

Upstairs, a large mezzanine serves three bedrooms including a master suite with its own bathroom.

A bathroom completes this level, equipped with air conditioning.

This stone house, in very good condition, with its redone roof, is ideal for a life without constraints, in a pretty village and a panorama that changes every day.

Buying French Property Just Got Easier...

The purchase process typically starts once you've visited a property with one of our agents and you made an offer on a property. Once your offer has been accepted, the property will come off the market and our local bilingual expert will liaise with you and the notaire. The compulsory searches are at the charge of the owner / vendor and are carried out at this stage.

You would have already been informed about the property taxes and legal fees (that incl. the stamp duty). The agency fees are already included in the listed price on this document, there's no premium for the superior service we offer. You don't have to pay the deposit until the 'pre-contract' has been signed, and the 10 days calling off period has expired. It takes an average of three months to buy a property in France.

Testimonials

my-french-house was by far the best online guide I found – and I trawled them all – to buying a house in France. It answers all your first questions practically before you've thought to ask.

C. BAUER – Sunday Times

Our French property purchase and move to France were made so easy with the help and assistance of my-french-house.com. They are a committed and professional business – we highly recommend them.
