Property Description

Located in the Monesse-Croix Bosset district, near the Fausses-Reposes forest, this former 18th century hunting lodge is nestled on a pleasant wooded plot of approximately 500 m². The building has evolved over time and today offers 150 m² of living space on two levels.

On the ground floor, a large entrance leads to the kitchen complete with a red cedar extension housing the dining room. This space with direct access to the outside has high ceilings and large windows offering a pleasant view of the green garden. This is followed by a warm living room, located in the historic part of the house, which has retained its original charm.

The upper floor, which houses the sleeping area, is accessible by two independent staircases. The first leads to two beautiful bedrooms which share a bathroom. One of them opens onto a charming terrace overlooking the garden. The second staircase, accessible from the entrance, leads to a pleasant 25 m² room ideal for teleworking and opening directly onto the garden, which can also be converted into a bedroom, and to a final bedroom.

A workshop, a cellar and a large garage of 25 m² which can easily be converted (and overlooking the garden) complete the services of this beautiful house which offers many possible arrangements according to needs. In addition to the garage, it is possible to park several cars on the property

Nestled in lush greenery, this charming family home, renovated with quality materials, preserves its old-world charm thanks to authentic details such as the gates and railings from surrounding castles.

Buying French Property Just Got Easier...

The purchase process typically starts once you've visited a property with one of our agents and you made an offer on a property. Once your offer has been accepted, the property will come off the market and our local bilingual expert will liaise with you and the notaire. The compulsory searches are at the charge of the owner / vendor and are carried out at this stage.

You would have already been informed about the property taxes and legal fees (that incl. the stamp duty). The agency fees are already included in the listed price on this document, there's no premium for the superior service we offer. You don't have to pay the deposit until the 'pre-contract' has been signed, and the 10 days calling off period has expired. It takes an average of three months to buy a property in France.
