Property Description

A true jewel of Jean Prouvé inspiration, this single-storey house of 135 m², built in 1965 by the architects Jacques Bon and Marie-Thérèse Bruas, in collaboration with the engineer Léon Pétroff, is nestled on the heights of Sèvres, at heart of a wooded plot of 640 m².

From the entrance, this house reveals its unique character with an industrial aesthetic marked by an exposed metal frame. The living room, perfectly arranged, consists of an entrance with storage and a warm living room organized around a central fireplace, extended by a dining area, all opening onto the terrace and the garden. The open kitchen is decorated with a workshop glass roof which elegantly highlights the industrial style of the house.

The flexible sleeping area is made up of two beautiful bedrooms in their green setting, an office, and a pleasant room that can be used as a TV lounge or extra bedroom, with direct access to the garden.

A cellar accessible from the outside and a garden shed complete the services of this beautiful house. Possibility of parking two cars on the property.

This house, with its distinctive industrial style and choice of materials, represents a true rare pearl with unique architecture. Each room benefits from numerous openings and corner windows, creating an inside-outside feeling, diffusing natural light and reinforcing the connection with the surrounding nature.

Buying French Property Just Got Easier...

The purchase process typically starts once you've visited a property with one of our agents and you made an offer on a property. Once your offer has been accepted, the property will come off the market and our local bilingual expert will liaise with you and the notaire. The compulsory searches are at the charge of the owner / vendor and are carried out at this stage.

You would have already been informed about the property taxes and legal fees (that incl. the stamp duty). The agency fees are already included in the listed price on this document, there's no premium for the superior service we offer. You don't have to pay the deposit until the 'pre-contract' has been signed, and the 10 days calling off period has expired. It takes an average of three months to buy a property in France.
