Property Description

Located in the heart of the Daguerre district, in a charming condominium unsuspected from the street, this artist's house with a surface area of 124 m2 Carrez offers different layout possibilities and benefits from three independent accesses. From the entrance, the authentic character of the place is clearly asserted: tiling of an old printing house on the ground, stone wall and exposed framework. A kitchen with undeniable charm benefits from a staircase giving access to a bathroom and an independent bedroom offering a view of the surrounding vegetation. A double living room lit by large bay windows provides access to the first floor, formerly used as a workshop, characterized by its high ceilings and decorated with a balcony overlooking a green courtyard. An office, a bathroom and a bedroom on the mezzanine complete the set. The striking contrast between the liveliness of the neighborhood and the tranquility of the place, the charm, character and history of this artist's house which is unlike any other, make it a rare property in a highly sought-after area.

Buying French Property Just Got Easier...

The purchase process typically starts once you've visited a property with one of our agents and you made an offer on a property. Once your offer has been accepted, the property will come off the market and our local bilingual expert will liaise with you and the notaire. The compulsory searches are at the charge of the owner / vendor and are carried out at this stage.

You would have already been informed about the property taxes and legal fees (that incl. the stamp duty). The agency fees are already included in the listed price on this document, there's no premium for the superior service we offer. You don't have to pay the deposit until the 'pre-contract' has been signed, and the 10 days calling off period has expired. It takes an average of three months to buy a property in France.

Testimonials

my-french-house was by far the best online guide I found – and I trawled them all – to buying a house in France. It answers all your first questions practically before you've thought to ask.

C. BAUER – Sunday Times

Our French property purchase and move to France were made so easy with the help and assistance of my-french-house.com. They are a committed and professional business – we highly recommend them.
