Property Description

Nestled on the 2nd and penultimate floor of a former industrial building and accessible by elevator, this 144m² Carrez loft (194m² floor space) enjoys a superb panoramic view and plenty of light.

Accessible from a metal passageway echoing the city's industrial heritage, it is structured around a majestic

89m² living room from which all access points radiate, promoting fluid and intuitive circulation.

From the entrance, a semi-open corridor leads to the main floor, which is completely open-plan and has a fitted and equipped kitchen. The ceiling height here is around 4 meters. A spectacular feeling of space emerges from this place.

The original polished concrete on the ground is a poignant testimony to its industrial history. It has been preserved identically, paying homage to the loft spirit of the whole.

From the main room, an access door leads to a large hallway of approximately 6m² with old herringbone workshop parquet flooring. This space which serves a separate toilet, a bathroom with shower and bathtub as well as a large 16m² bedroom currently houses a laundry room.

The master bedroom is accessible from this hallway and also from the main living room offering fluid and pleasant circulation.

From the main living room, two staircases lead to the large mezzanine offering 4 distinct spaces. 3 rooms semi-open to the living room located below are currently dedicated to children and offer 2 independent sleeping areas as well as a space dedicated to play.

A final space currently used for storage could easily be converted into an office.

The breathtaking view from the main living room is superb. The famous Duo towers of the 13th arrondissement of Paris designed by architect Jean Nouvel are revealed, sparkling. they reverberate a silvery light in the place throughout the day.

A table and a few chairs have been installed at the end of the passageway serving this timeless loft and offer a glimpse of sunny lunches as soon as the nice weather arrives.

A double secure parking space within the co-ownership completes all the services and offers additional storage capacity.

A friendly atmosphere and a certain symbiosis emerges in this real estate complex welcoming families, artists and artisans.

Ivry sur Seine no longer needs to be presented. Once the famous spearhead of what was called the little red belt, this town today has enviable infrastructure and amenities on the outskirts of Paris.

Anchored in the heart of the city and close to shops, transport and Paris, this generously sized living space has undeniable assets and will appeal to a family looking for space and light.

Although subject to the status of co-ownership.

Buying French Property Just Got Easier...

The purchase process typically starts once you've visited a property with one of our agents and you made an offer on a property. Once your offer has been accepted, the property will come off the market and our local bilingual expert will liaise with you and the notaire. The compulsory searches are at the charge of the owner / vendor and are carried out at this stage.

You would have already been informed about the property taxes and legal fees (that incl. the stamp duty). The agency fees are already included in the listed price on this document, there's no premium for the superior service we offer. You don't have to pay the deposit until the 'pre-contract' has been signed, and the 10 days calling off period has expired. It takes an average of three months to buy a property in France.
