Property Description

It is in Choisy-le-Roi in the very sought-after Saint-Louis district, close to amenities, schools and public transport, that this mansion of 215 m² is located, benefiting from a privileged location and offering its residents an exceptional quality of life.

Built at the beginning of the 19th century in 1801, this mansion embodies the prestige of traditional architecture. The large rooms bathed in light, the high ceilings decorated with moldings, the fireplace, the solid oak herringbone parquet floors and the tiles give this residence an incomparable charm.

Pierre Rousseau, author of several Parisian mansions, was the architect who worked on the construction of this exceptional property.

The garden level of this residence offers living spaces perfectly designed for entertaining and sharing special moments with family and friends. Equipped with an entrance hall, multiple spacious living rooms, a sumptuous dining room and a fully equipped kitchen, a separate toilet, this level benefits from fluid and optimal circulation.

The period wooden staircase leads to the first floor which is made up of two bedrooms, a dressing room, a separate toilet, as well as a bathroom with toilet, guaranteeing comfort and privacy for its occupants.

The second floor also consists of two bedrooms, an adjoining bathroom and a dressing room.

There is also a utility room, a partial basement with boiler room and laundry room as well as an attic.

In addition, an independent pavilion measuring 45sqm, ideal for a student, rental or a liberal profession completes this property. It consists on the ground floor of a fitted and equipped kitchen open to the living room, a bathroom, a separate toilet as well as 2 bedrooms upstairs.

All on a plot of land facing East/West measuring approximately 680sqm.

Also, an interior paved courtyard at the front can accommodate parking for several vehicles.

This house underwent a major renovation in 2003 (heating, electricity, replacement of frames, zinc work, painting, repair of floors, restoration of the gate). In 2011 and 2013 the paving of the courtyard was carried out as well as a complete renovation of the facades. The roof is in good condition, with its original framework.

This property offers an enchanting setting where nature blends harmoniously with architecture for moments of relaxation and conviviality. Elegant and timeless, this house represents a rare opportunity for lovers of exceptional properties and history buffs.

Whether as a primary residence or investment, it will meet the most demanding expectations.

Buying French Property Just Got Easier...

The purchase process typically starts once you've visited a property with one of our agents and you made an offer on a property. Once your offer has been accepted, the property will come off the market and our local bilingual expert will liaise with you and the notaire. The compulsory searches are at the charge of the owner / vendor and are carried out at this stage.

You would have already been informed about the property taxes and legal fees (that incl. the stamp duty). The agency fees are already included in the listed price on this document, there's no premium for the superior service we offer. You don't have to pay the deposit until the 'pre-contract' has been signed, and the 10 days calling off period has expired. It takes an average of three months to buy a property in France.
