Property Description

In the 13th arrondissement and close to the BNF, there is an 85.20 m² Carrez duplex with a private courtyard of 50 m² which can be experienced like a house, hidden from view, in a friendly atmosphere.

The charm of the old; French ceiling, period fireplace, two-tone terracotta tiles, exposed stone walls and wood Corinthian columns where India is in the spotlight, combine brilliantly.

The apartment opens onto a patio-style green courtyard. It is on this first level that you access the living room, followed by an adjoining room which can be used as an office or a third bedroom.

The independent and functional kitchen also opens to the outside

On the first floor, two bedrooms share a bathroom with WC.

A 12 m² vaulted cellar is accessible by a stone staircase from the living room.

Buying French Property Just Got Easier...

The purchase process typically starts once you've visited a property with one of our agents and you made an offer on a property. Once your offer has been accepted, the property will come off the market and our local bilingual expert will liaise with you and the notaire. The compulsory searches are at the charge of the owner / vendor and are carried out at this stage.

You would have already been informed about the property taxes and legal fees (that incl. the stamp duty). The agency fees are already included in the listed price on this document, there's no premium for the superior service we offer. You don't have to pay the deposit until the 'pre-contract' has been signed, and the 10 days calling off period has expired. It takes an average of three months to buy a property in France.

For more information take a look at our buying guide, our french mortgage and euro currency exchange pages.

Testimonials

my-french-house was by far the best online guide I found – and I trawled them all – to buying a house in France. It answers all your first questions practically before you've thought to ask.

C. BAUER – Sunday Times

Our French property purchase and move to France were made so easy with the help and assistance of my-french-house.com. They are a committed and professional business – we highly recommend them.
