Property Description

In the natural massif of the Alpilles, this Taurine property spanning over 220 hectares enjoys an exceptional view of the massif.

Comprising meadows, woods, and marshes, this estate is currently used for the breeding of fighting bulls. The main house, exceeding 300m², consists of an entrance separating the living areas and the sleeping quarters.

The living areas include a kitchen, a living room with a fireplace, and a large veranda. In the other part, there are 4 bedrooms, including one en suite, and a large attic. The house requires renovation.

Two independent apartments with two bedrooms each provide accommodation for staff.

Outside, vast expanses of land stretch as far as the eye can see, along with stables and agricultural sheds. To the north, with a sublime view of the Alpilles, there is a hunting lodge that can accommodate large gatherings in front of its fireplace.

Arenas, with over 1000 seating places, allow for the organization of equestrian, bullfighting, and other events. The location is equipped with an ERP (Établissement Recevant du Public - Public Reception Facility).

An unusual place to visit without delay!

Buying French Property Just Got Easier...

The purchase process typically starts once you've visited a property with one of our agents and you made an offer on a property. Once your offer has been accepted, the property will come off the market and our local bilingual expert will liaise with you and the notaire. The compulsory searches are at the charge of the owner / vendor and are carried out at this stage.

You would have already been informed about the property taxes and legal fees (that incl. the stamp duty). The agency fees are already included in the listed price on this document, there's no premium for the superior service we offer. You don't have to pay the deposit until the 'pre-contract' has been signed, and the 10 days calling off period has expired. It takes an average of three months to buy a property in France.

Testimonials

my-french-house was by far the best online guide I found – and I trawled them all – to buying a house in France. It answers all your first questions practically before you've thought to ask.

C. BAUER – Sunday Times

Our French property purchase and move to France were made so easy with the help and assistance of my-french-house.com. They are a committed and professional business – we highly recommend them.
